RIUM
HIGH SCHOOL

Sincerely Dedicated

In appreciation this sixteenth volume of Hoofbeats is sincerely dedicated to two of North Phoenix High School's most beloved teachers, Miss Gladys Neil and Mr. Fred McDonald who passed away this school year.

Miss Neil, a biology instructor, had taught here at North for quite a few years and for the last several years had served as head of the North High Science Department. She became ill this last summer and spent most of the summer in the hospital. Miss Neil returned to teach this fall as usual but shortly after the first of the year she became quite ill and for several weeks before she passed away she was confined to a hospital bed.

Mr. Fred McDonald, a mathematics instructor, had taught in the Phoenix High School System for 27 years. Previous to that he served six years as principal of the Jerome High School in Jerome, Arizona. Mr. McDonald died unexpectedly during the Christmas holidays.

The many students at North High that have been taught by these two instructors know what fine people they were and that we will have to go a long way to match the character and respect held for them.

Hello

Hello Day, North High's get acquainted day, enjoyed considerable success this year.

North High students wore tags labeling them as Mustangs and indicating the individual student's names.

Aloof stares, upraised noses and sneers of "Hey Frosh" were replaced by cheerful "Hi's and warm Hello's" as North High students carried the tags.

A full evening of entertainment followed the annual Hello Day celebration as North High students flocked to the Hello Day Dance.

Since its introduction several years ago, Hello Day has had its purpose of fostering a feeling of friendship and comradeship on the North Phoenix High School campus.

LEFT: Coach Cecil Coleman compares notes with one of his spotters by telephone at a North High football game while Coach Rolly Caldwell, Principal C. M. Burton, and end Frank Evans look on. BELOW: Margie Liem leads cheerleading candidates Carolyn Cleveland, Jane Boarman, and Sally Imboden in T-E-A-M during the tryouts that were held last spring.

Football goes with cheerleading in most high schools like vanilla ice cream goes with apple pie. North High is no exception. Leading the cheerleaders was captain Lois Drage, a senior, who was later chosen North High's candidate in the annual junior maid of cotton contest.

At every football game, the squad could be seen leading the North students in yells designed to spark the football team to victory.

Even though the team only lost two games throughout the entire season, they could not finish any higher than third place in the Class AA League standings.

Under the leadership of Coaches Cecil Coleman and Vernon Wolfe, the team came in behind undefeated Phoenix Union and Mesa, which only lost once.

Campus Fun

October was the month the corral opened bringing North High students out to dance, play music and enjoy snacks in the Mustang corral.

Cleaning the flats that are used to build the sets for the various plays was just one of the many activities enjoyed by the dramatics classes this year.

In Mr. J. D. Filson's third period drama class primary staging for the Masque of the Yellow Moon was being worked out during one term.

Working behind the scenes in productions, acting in and presenting plays and helping out on assemblies were only a few of the activities accomplished in first year drama this year.

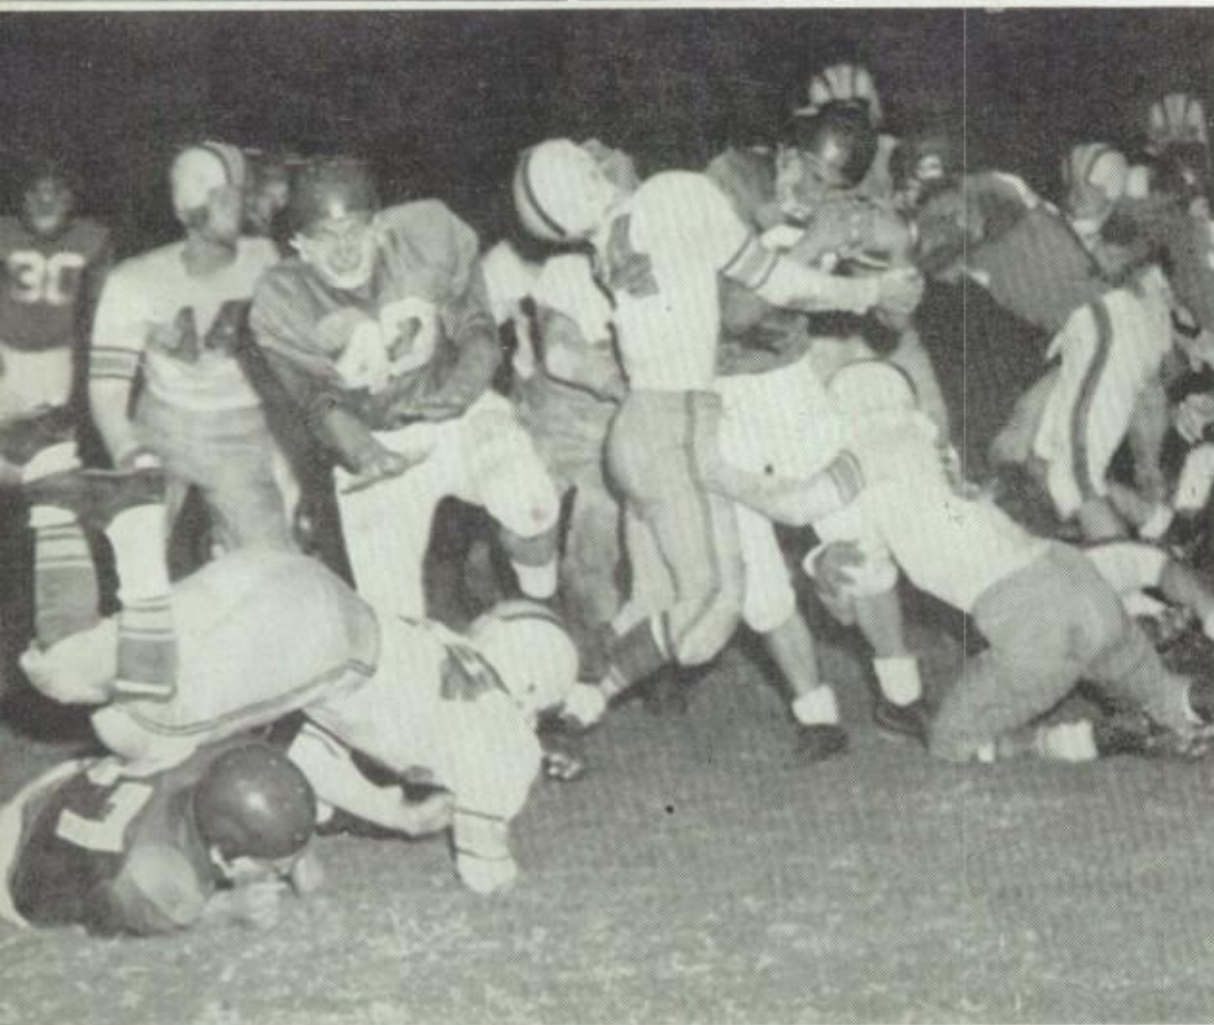

Square dancing is an activity enjoyed by many North High students who after joining the Square Dancing Club took part in many exhibitions that were enjoyed by all who attended.

OCTOBER . . . Varied sports and related events are depicted in the above pictures. Sports are enjoyed all year round at North High, from ping pong to football. Going to the dance after the game or riding the bus to see an out-of-town game are activities also relished by students at North High.

Turkey Day!

Quibona Tri-Hi-Y won the annual Thanksgiving Day float contest with their float entitled BLAST 'EM. A red and blue Mustang standing over a dead Coyote, signifying the beating Phoenix Union was to get, donned the float. Much to everyone's surprise Phoenix Union beat the North High football team at the Thanksgiving Day game.

Pep for all the ball games this year, as always, was supplied by the North High cheerleaders under the direction of Mrs. Betsy Phelps. These girls brought out the pep in the students at both the assemblies and the games through their cheers.

North Crowns Grid Queen

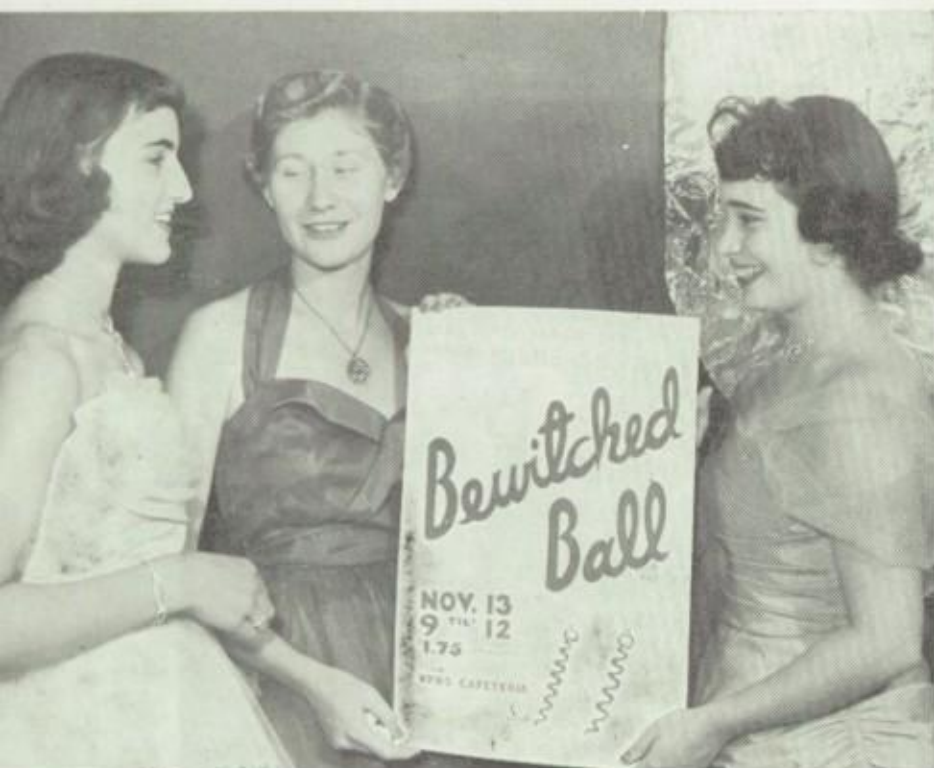

Diana Dismuke, a senior, captured the title of Football Queen of 1955. Diana's attendants from the various classes were Sharon Baldwin, junior; Joan Martin, sophomore; and Marlene Willis, freshman. These girls were all elected by the football team to represent North High in the annual Thanksgiving Day festivities.

In November the annual Arizona State Fair brought the pom pon girls, cheerleaders and band out in all their glory to march in the parade.

The Girls' League formal, The Blue and Silver Ball, was also presented in November. Under the direction of this year's president, Sylvia Shimkus, the first formal of the year was a great success. This was partly made possible because of the willing help offered by the Girls' League Council.

Chinese Theater

"The Lute Song," the first presentation of the year put on by the North High Players, was under the direction of Mr. Dee Filson. This play was on the line of experimental theater. The story concerned the life of a Chinese boy trying to make his way in the world.

Distinctive designs of grease paint were put on the actor's faces representing good, bad, rich, poor or noble. The designs were originated mostly by the make-up crew.

Very little scenery was used for this play. A tree would represent a forest or a flower pot a room, most of the scenery effects were left to the audience.

Kent Mayfield played the lead in the play as Tsai Yong. Diana Dismuke as Tchao-ou-Niang played opposite Kent.

Yuletide Festivities

December was the month the Girls' League sponsored a Christmas Tea to honor North High's exchange student from Finland, Tuulikki Lena Volanen. The theme of the tea was Finland so the decorations and refreshments were all of the Finnish trend.

The Christmas Tea proved to be a great success under the overall direction of Sylvia Shimkus, Girls' League president, who was assisted by the Girls' League council and the advisor Miss Vera McCormick, Dean of Girls.

Also in December was the assembly put on by the Modern Dance group under the direction of Mrs. Betsy Phelps. The assembly was entitled the Little Match Girl and was taken from the famous story of that same name.

Tuulikki Lena Volanen, an exchange student from Finland, is pictured posing for the photographer after attending the Girls' League Christmas Tea, held in her honor.

$1,100 was the grand total of the day, that was all to be contributed to the March of Dimes. This money was collected by members of the Junior class by selling Druthers, candy cereal; newspapers entitled The Yokum Yearly and some was even collected from donations.

Brent Cardwell, junior class president, was chairman of the day.

Senior Class of '55

The members of the Senior Class of '55 have proved themselves to be a group of students striving to bring honor to their class and school. Among these students we have the State winner of the Future Homemaker of America award, outstanding speech students, athletes, and future scientists.

This year the seniors have presented movies, dances, and the ever popular Junior-Senior Talent assembly. Last year they were very proud to say that Sadie Hawkins Day brought in more money for polio than any previous year. This glory was taken over by this year's Junior class and it proved to be a challenge to each succeeding year to raise the amount higher as started by the class of '55.

As this year draws to a close there is the rush of buying graduation announcements and cards, the panoramic picture, and new clothes for the excitement of the many parties and dances held at graduation time. The last planning of the year by the Senior Class is for the success of the Junior-Senior prom, Senior Hop, and the Senior Reception following graduation.

Outstanding and Successful

Voted Most Outstanding Senior Girl and Boy were TOP, LEFT AND RIGHT, Barbara Payne and Johnny Ingersoll. Barbara served as Student Body Treasurer this year and is active in many Student Government activities. Johnny was North High's speech winner for the Rotary Speech contest.

Personality Plus

Voted Best Looking Girl and Boy in the Senior Class were Roselle Beck and Eddie Mitchell. Roselle has been chosen quite frequently to represent North High's beauties. Eddie, besides being handsome, played football and basketball all four years of high school.

Catherine Hogg and Bob Robinson were selected as Most Popular Senior Girl and Boy. Catherine was a Pom Pon girl and served as a judge on the Honor Court this year. Bob has served as President for many of North High's organizations.

Athletes and Council

The Best Senior Girl and Boy Athletes were TOP, LEFT AND RIGHT, Jo Wilson and Jerry Robinson. Jo has been in G.A.A. for four years and is an All-Star player. Jerry has played football, basketball, baseball, and been a member of the track team.

AT BOTTOM is the Senior Council being presided over by President Joe Jordan.

JUNIOR OFFICERS: Seated are Brent Cardwell, President; Lynn Barslow, Honor Court Judge; Dorothy Fischer, Vice-President. Those standing are Virginia Olmsted, Secretary; Sue McDaniel, Honor Court Judge.

Class of '56

Sadie Hawkins Day, sponsoring buses to Tucson for the football game with the Badgers, and a sport dance have been the activities presented by the Junior Class this year. The most outstanding of these events was, of course, Sadie Hawkins Day. With a figure of $1100 this class was very happy to present the March of Dimes chairman with a check. Many different events were thought of to raise money such as Fabulous Jones, Druthers, and a semi-formal dance to climax the day.

The Junior-Senior Prom which was held April 16 in the Corral proved to be the best ever.

Being seniors, the goal they have been striving for, is almost upon the juniors. Three years of hard work and successful activities have given the members of this class the experience they need to be the leaders of the school. Brent Cardwell, the first boy in North High's history to be class president for three years and then Student Body President his senior year, is just the person to make the Class of '56 a huge success.

Class of '58

"'58 here we come," seems to be the motto of this ambitious freshmen class. They've progressed since that first day in the mysterious maze of North High; the scared freshmen look has been replaced with a more confident air and security that comes from belonging.

They've attacked the dilemma of Latin, algebra, and English, with diligence, also having time to be the most ardent supporters of the Pep Club, yelling the loudest at the football games and other athletic events, giving the school support in every event and all the while proclaiming, "North High is my school."

Music Makers

Many hours of hard practice have paid off high dividends for the North High Orchestra. The orchestra has been one of the best music-making outfits on the campus.

Under the baton of Mr. Lynn Fitzgerald, the orchestra presented, in early spring, a concert with members of the Advanced Girls' Glee Club.

The North orchestra also had a few members in the Phoenix Youth Symphony Orchestra, showing to Phoenix the caliber of musicians trained at North.

The students at North have excellent reasons to be proud of the school's orchestra.

The A Cappella – Great Voices

The A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Mr. Ben Denton, has been very instrumental in keeping North High's name synonymous with good music.

Since the beginning of school last September, the A Cappella has sung before many groups, including church groups, service clubs, schools and hospitals.

The singers, once again as in the past, put on the annual Christmas assembly presenting to the double assembly the many joyous and seasonal songs. The stage was even bedecked with a Christmas tree surrounded by both children and gifts.

In the early part of 1955, the A Cappella group, along with the Mustang Band, presented the annual Mid-winter Concert.

Tri-Hi-Y – Active On Campus

It was a very busy year for the Hi-Y's and Tri-Hi-Y's on the North High campus.

Many of the Hi-Y's had special events, including movies, basketball games, pin sales, and one of the biggest events of the year, the Trojan-Crusader Carnival held in April.

The Tri-Hi-Y's also were very active. Events of clubs included cake sales, car washings, movies, and teas, just to name a few.

There were also events in which both the Hi-Y's and Tri-Hi-Y's participated, with one of the biggest being the snow party held by the Quibona and Trojan groups.

Besides promoting special events, the groups all worked toward one goal, that of promoting friendliness and competition. The clubs also gave many students a chance to meet new friends and renew old acquaintances.

Ushers and Frenchmen

One of the busiest "little" groups on the North campus was the Stadium Club. During many of the year's sporting and other events, this group of students was usually doing the ushering and keeping order. They were rewarded, as in the past, for their work by being asked to usher at the New Year's Day Salad Bowl Game.

The French Club gives the many members a chance to learn and talk informally about the customs of the people whose language they are learning.

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF—Hyla Evans was the editor-in-chief of the 1955 Hoofbeats.

It took time and patience to put out the 1955 Hoofbeats and the editors and staff are proud to put it before the students.

Hyla Evans headed the staff as editor-in-chief. Her section editors included Janice Turner, freshman and sophomore sections; Marilyn Citron, activity section; Pat Lyon, student government; Jeanette Aldridge, faculty and administration section; Merv Kolb, clubs and organization section; and Dusty Richards, sports section.

From the beginning of school in September, the staff was preparing for this edition. Pictures had to be assigned and taken, pages had to be made, copy had to be written and final pages checked.

And now, after nine months of work, the Hoofbeats is completed and in your hands for final approval.

Without the help of the staff and photographers there would be no annual. The editors are deeply indebted to both these groups for their time and help.

The staff included Louise Collier, Sue and Sally Hogan, Maureen Thompson, Alma Brown, Pete Brown, Maryce Bezdek, Jean Calvert, and Bob Crawford.

Taking, developing and printing the pictures for the Hoofbeats and the Mustang Roundup were Barry Smith, Dave Wantz, Dave Hoagland, Danny Miller, Joe Jordan, Ernest Barwick, and George Henderson.

Anita Ruthling was advertising manager for the 1955 annual. She and her staff were responsible for getting and making-up of the ads seen in the back of this book. Her assistants consisted of journalism and publication students.

Mustang Roundup Editors

The Mustang Roundup this year again proved that it is one of the best papers in the state and the country. And it has awards and statements proving so.

Bob Crawford was the person in charge of seeing that fifteen editions of the Roundup appeared before the student body. Bob, his editors and staff, were constantly "digging" out campus news and features, and seeing that they were printed. Mary Beth Aarni was news editor for the Roundup, Dick Hall was in charge of the sports department, and Maureen Thompson, was feature editor.

The Roundup, as in the past, dedicated the fifteenth edition to the graduating seniors. Every senior student who filled out special questionnaires and returned them to the publications room had his name printed in the final edition of The Roundup.

Campus Journalists

No newspaper, whether a city or school publication, could function without the writers, copyreaders, business department or the photographers.

Each had its own special job to do, and when the final tally was taken each had done its job to the best of its ability.

The staff, consisting of the journalism and publication students, were and always will be considered the backbone of any staff.

The publication photographers didn't stop after snapping the picture. They developed and printed each picture with special care so it could be used for either the Roundup or Hoofbeats.

Being partially self-supporting, the Roundup must have advertising to exist. In charge of the ad department was Diane Pandeli and assistant ad manager, Pete Brown.

Keeping books for the Roundup isn't an easy job. Just ask Judy Jekel, who was business manager for the Roundup.

The 1954-55 edition of the North High Pep Club was very instrumental in building and keeping the morale of Mustangs at fever-high pitch for many of the school's sporting events.

Under president Bob Robinson, the Pep Club had its own roped-off section at all the home football and many of the basketball games.

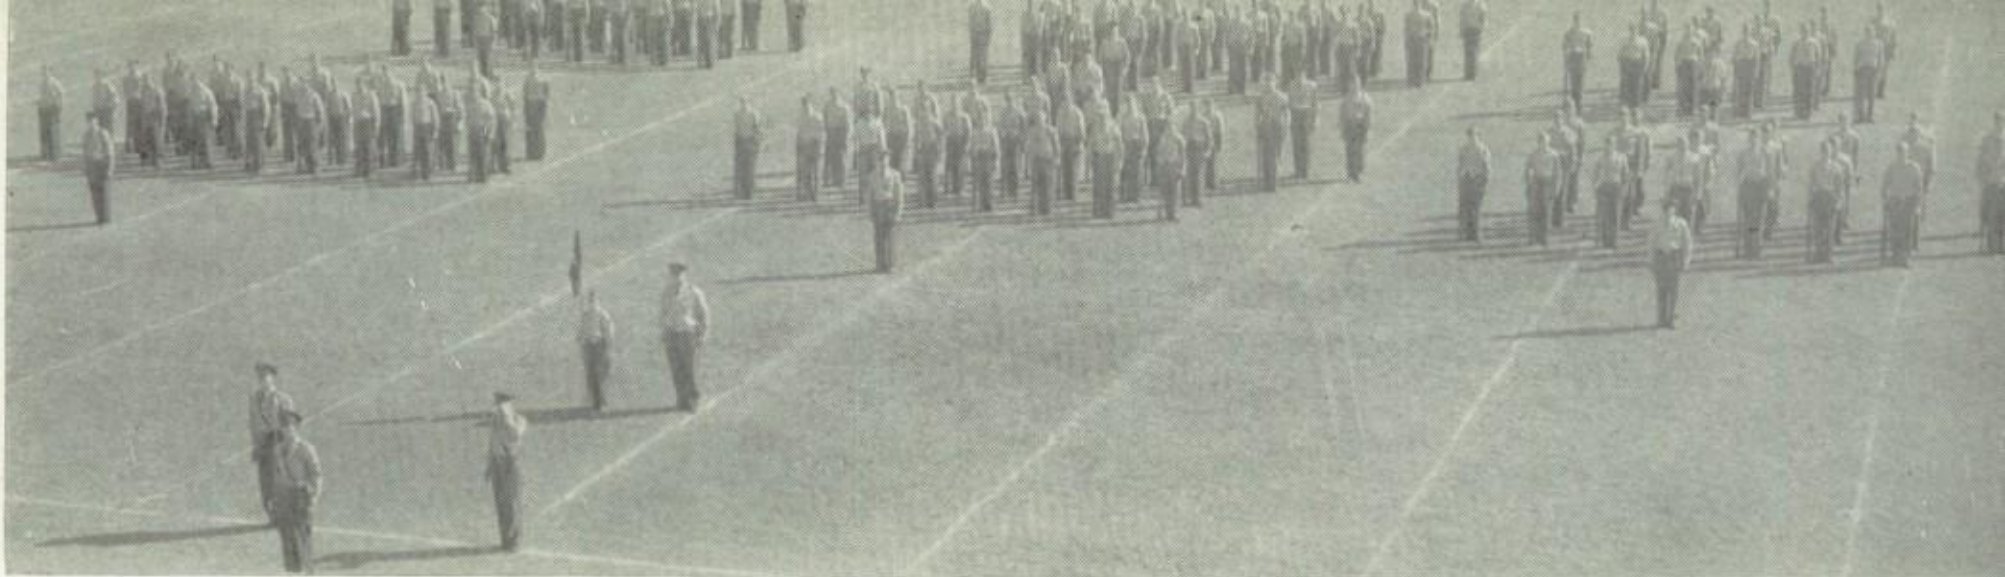

Before the annual gridiron game with Phoenix Union, the Club sponsored the annual Turkey Game Rally, where many of the school's organizations entered floats. It was at this rally that Diana Dismuke was crowned football queen.

Other Pep Club officers included Mike McAfee, vice-president, Lois Drage, secretary, and Barbara Payne, treasurer. Mr. Tom Inman was faculty advisor for the group.

Our Team

A record of eight wins and two losses was not quite good enough to earn a repeat claim to the Class AA football championship. A loss to the Mesa Jackrabbits, who finished second, and a 14-7 loss to the champion Union Coyotes on Thanksgiving Day shoved the defending champion Mustangs into third place in the league standings.

From an overall standpoint, however, the season was not too bad. Three members of the Mustang varsity made first string All-State. Halfback Eddie Mitchell, who finished second to Phoenix Union's George Greathouse in the league scoring race, tackle John Harper, acclaimed the best linebacker in the state, and end Benny Anderson, who improved greatly after not even making the first team last year, were the three honored.

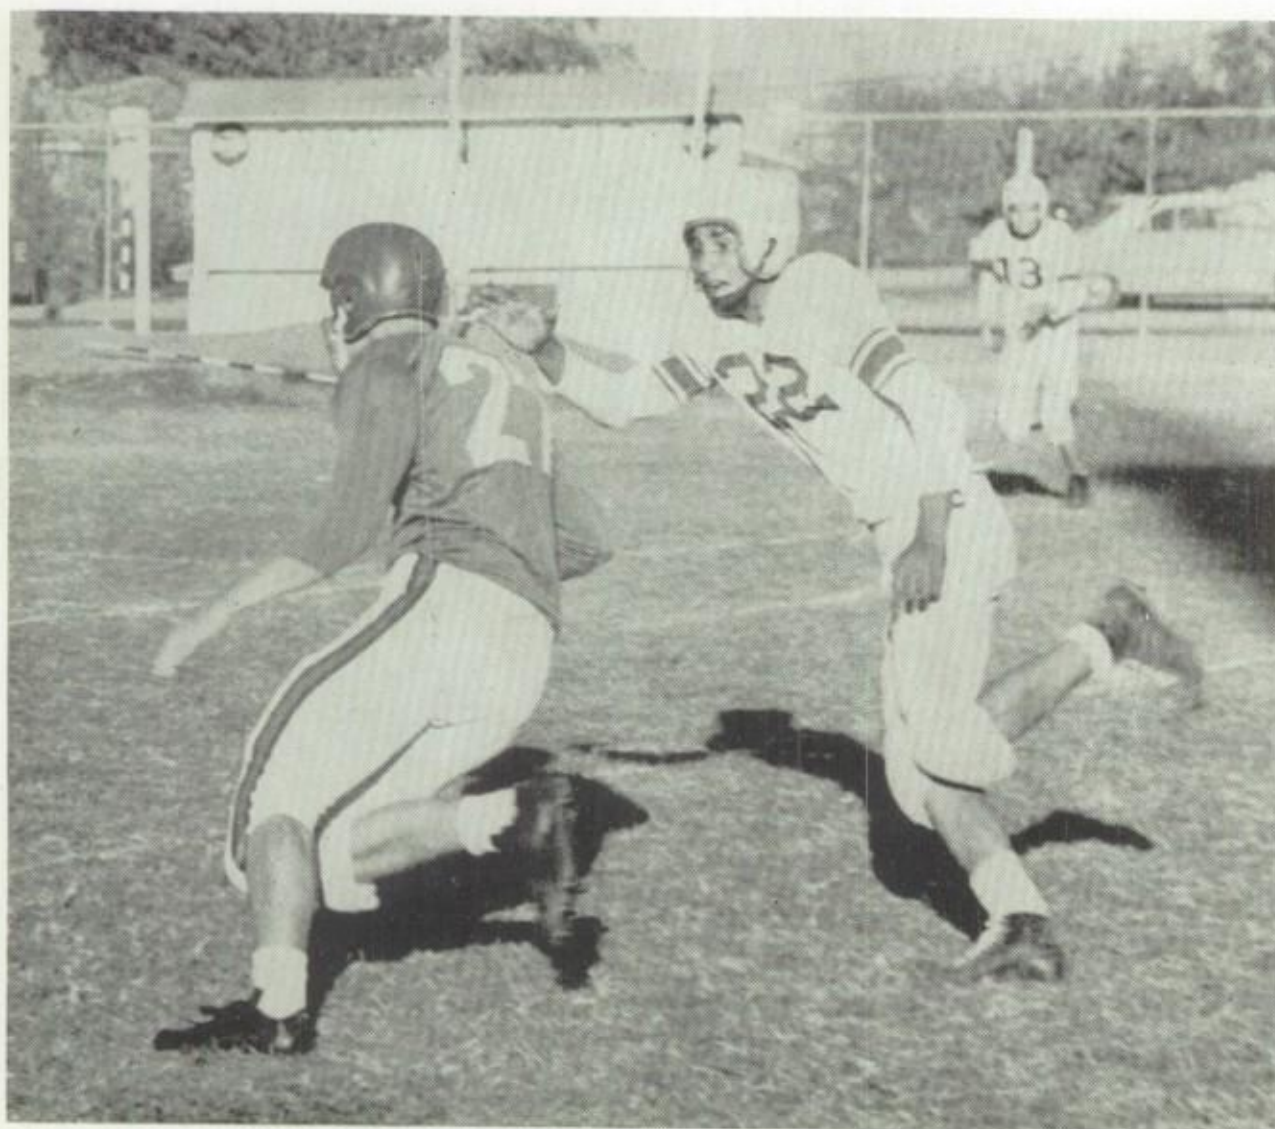

The Mustangs started the season with their sixth win over the West High Thunderbirds in the six years that the team has played them. Then, in a game that was rated a toss-up, the Hosses bowed to a strong Mesa squad 19-12. After the loss, the team started to roll. Led by the three potential All-Staters and ace quarterback Clyde Nielson, the squad rolled to seven consecutive victories, reaching their peak in the ninth game of the season when they defeated Phoenix Tech 50-0.

At the beginning of the 1954-55 basketball season, Coach Richard "Jiggs" Hardt predicted that the North High varsity hoopsters would win twelve games and drop six. As the final standings proved, Hardt was as good a prophet as he was a coach. The North varsity won exactly twice as many games as it lost in the eighteen game season and finished in third place behind Phoenix Union and Phoenix Tech.

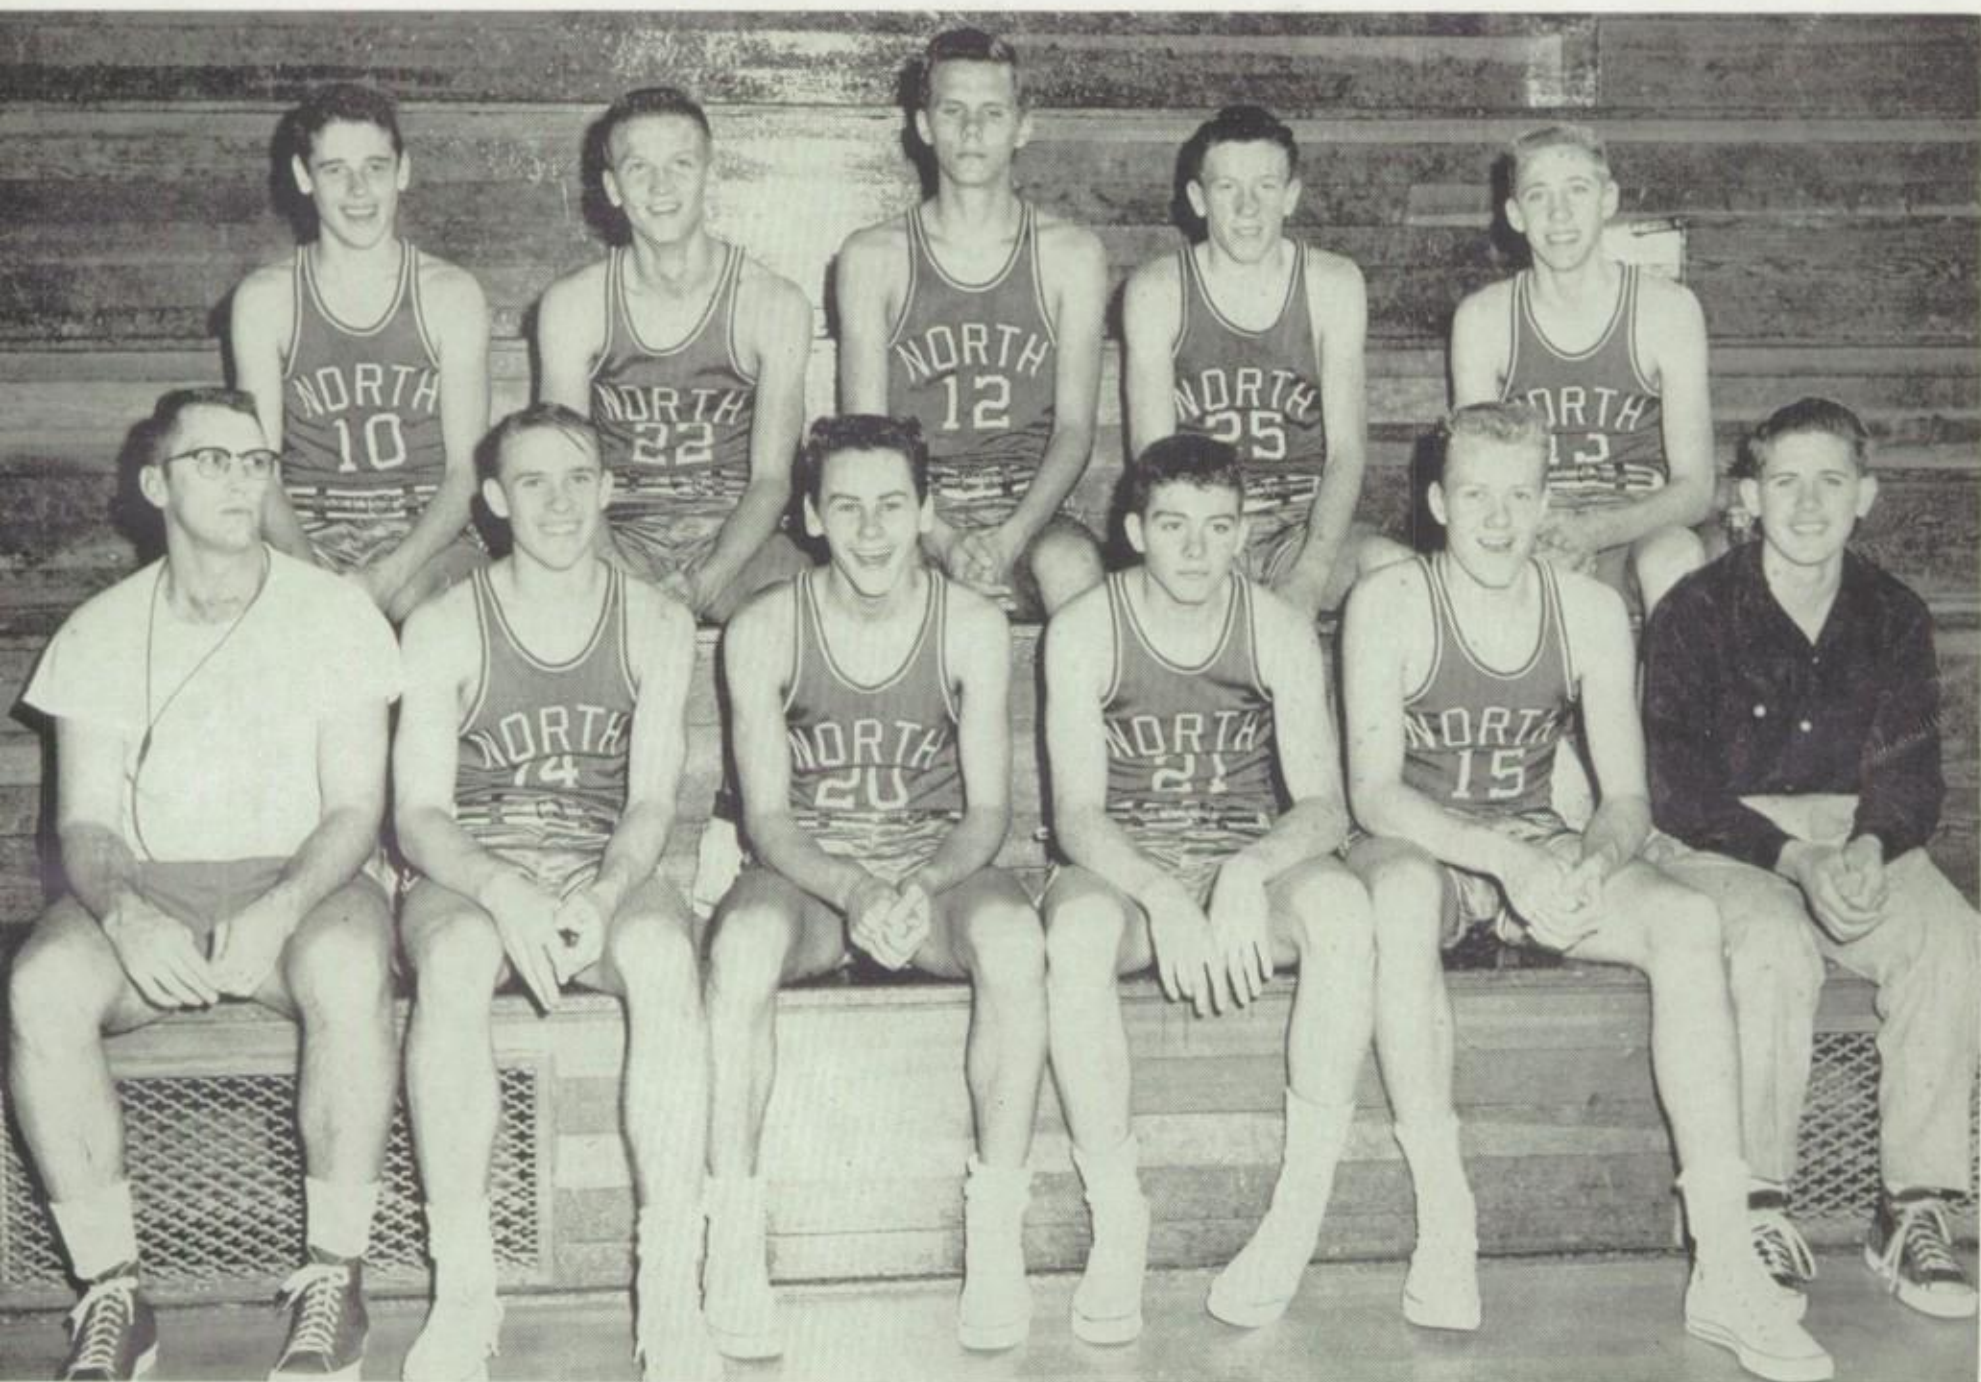

The team started the season at a fast clip and were running neck and neck with Phoenix Tech until the season was about two-thirds complete. Then the unbeaten Phoenix Union Coyotes were scheduled to play the Mustangs in the Coyote Gymnasium.

The game started out as if it was to be a runaway for the Coyotes with the Pack holding a 17 point lead at half-time. After the mid-game break, however, the Hosses made a miracle comeback and won the game in overtime, 53-52. The next night, however, they blew their chance to gain a firm foothold on second place when the Tech Hornets walked all over them.

Pete Homer, Mustang forward, was named captain of both the All-City and All State hoop teams.

VOTE: This word was displayed all over campus to build up votes for the Student Body elections. Members of the Executive Committee served as poll conductors.

Just 75 years ago, an enterprising young man named Tom Edison invented the first practical incandescent lamp. His fragile glass bulb led to harnessed electric power . . . the foundation of America's modern living.

For young Tom Edison, and for millions of American youths before and since his time, opportunity awaited in our free enterprise system. Opportunity waits for you also. Success is simply a matter of personal application, perseverance, and faith in our American way.
